RIFLE MISHAPS INJURE YOUTHS

Painting Repeated At Oyler's Garage

Borough police began an investigation Saturday of a case of malicious mischief to doors and windows at the Dave Oyler garage, Steinwehr Ave.

About ten days ago someone painted a number of windows and doors of the garage with "vulgar words" intimating some dislike of an employee at the garage, police said. No report was made at that time, but when the painting was repeated Friday night, police were called in.

Regular house paint was used, it was reported. The paint could be scraped off the windows, but the doors will have to be repainted to cover over the lettering.

Dr. May, Who Gave Atomic Secret To Reds, Released

WAKEFIELD, England (AP)—The British let Dr. Alan Nunn May, the West's first convicted atom spy, out of prison today. He slipped quietly into the outside world as a free man.

He is an admitted Communist scientist who has never publicly repented giving the Russians samples of uranium material used in making the first U. S. A-bomb.

May, 41, served six years and eight months of a 10-year sentence. He was given the maximum one-third time off for good behavior, as required by British law. He was convicted in 1946 on charges of communicating official secrets to an unknown person—secrets which "might be useful, to an enemy."

Prison officials smuggled May out of a side door of Wakefield's grim, grey walled prison, eluding more than 30 newspapermen who waited at the front gate.

Whereabouts Unknown

Where he went was not known. All that British officials would say is that May is now a free man—as free as any other who has paid his lawful debt to society—that is, has served his time.

Other atomic traitors to the West have not been so fortunate. Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the American atomic spies, are scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison the week of Jan. 12. Klaus Fuchs, another British scientist, is serving a 14-year sentence passed in 1950.

May was the first to be caught up in the evidence uncovered after the cracking of a Soviet espionage ring in Canada in 1946. The trail led to Fuchs, the Rosenbergs and David Greenglass, who got off with a 15 year sentence for testifying against the others.

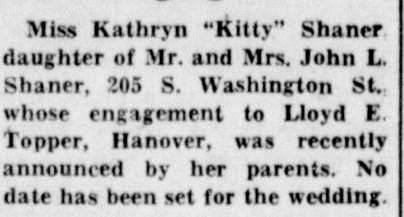

Big Help To Russia

A U. S. congressional committee said the group of A-spies advanced Russia's atomic energy program by at least a year and a half.

May is not married. He has few relatives. British newspapers have expressed fear he will find a way of getting out of Britain in secret and crossing over to an Iron Curtain country. He has as much freedom to move as any tourist.

The brilliant young physicist, who was a trusted member of the wartime U. S.-Canadian-British atomic program, has never expressed any (Continued On Page 9)

Here And There News Collected At Random

When Borough Council adopts its 1953 budget next month it is to be hoped that a suitable and sufficient amount will be provided for the mosquito campaign next spring and summer.

This is a major project in Gettysburg. It has been for a number of years but on only a few occasions has the result been satisfactory.

Gettysburg cannot afford to forego an all-out mosquito elimination drive. First, from a health and sanitation point of view. Second, from the standpoint of the thousands of visitors we have each year and last, but above all, not the least, from a standpoint of comfort.

The mosquito is a dangerous pest and should be eliminated. The campaign should be formulated now, not a week or two before the pests start pesting.

The present Council has shown good judgment and community interest in the past and it is believed it will continue to do so.

The prairie chicken, a colorful native grouse which flushed ahead of the covered wagons of the pioneers but which has become scarce in modern America, has been selected to symbolize National Wildlife Week March 15-21 in 1953.

If profits are evil, somebody ought to speak sharply to nature!

That is the theme of a striking (Continued on Page 8)

DRIVER ADMITS CODE CHARGE

Miles H. Gladfelter, Wormleysburg, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to reveal his identity at the scene of an accident before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, and posted $500 bail to appear for court following a crash near the Caledonia Drive-in Theater Saturday afternoon.

State police, who brought the charge, said damage amounted to $400, and there were no injuries, when Gladfelter's car and a vehicle driven by Grover Earl Thompson, Carlisle St., sideswiped in the center lane of the three-lane highway.

Thompson was driving west, police said, and was in the center lane passing a truck. At the same time Gladfelter, driving east, swung into the center lane to avoid a disabled car parked partly in the east-bound lane of the highway. Gladfelter stopped, assayed the damage to his car, decided it was of minor nature and drove on, police said, without revealing his identity at the scene of the crash.

Pleads Guilty To Drunken Driving

Miss Helen L. Carey, Gettysburg R. 1, was released Saturday on $500 bail to appear for the next term of court, after pleading guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore to a charge of drunken driving.

The information was placed by borough police before Justice Baschore after Miss Carey's car struck a parked car owned by Clarence Shindedecker, Steinwehr Ave., parked near his residence, at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The Carey car then traveled on about 300 feet, crossed the street twice, knocking down a stop sign at the intersection of Steinwehr Ave. and Taneytown Rd., barely missing a battlefield monument, chipping the concrete steps at the Raymond Singley residence and coming to rest on the sidewalk, wedged against a utility pole at the residence of Carl S. Menchey.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Glenn F. Weikert, Huntingdon, Pa., wore a street-length dress of iridescent taffeta of India rose and turquoise designed with a plaited yoke tapering to a V-shaped neckline, short puffed sleeves and full skirt. Engine Derailed Sunday Afternoon

Western Maryland Diesel engine No. 58, operating between Hagerstown and Baltimore, was derailed Sunday afternoon while delivering cars to the Reading railroad here. There was little damage, according to railroad men here. Front wheels of the engine dropped off the tracks while the engine was shifting cars in the Reading yards at 12:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Herbert Fetters of the Reading Co., said the crew used "re-railers" which are carried on the engines, in order to get back on the track.

"Re-railers" he explained are lengths of rail tapering from the front to the rear, that are placed behind the wheels of the track, and then the engine backs, pulling the wheels up the inclined rail to the regular track.

The engine was back on the track at 4:15 o'clock.

Chinese Reds Are Repulsed; Enemy Targets Are Lambasted

SEOUL, Monday, Dec. 29 (AP)—Chinese Reds, stung by one of the heaviest Allied air strikes against a single North Korean target since last August, struck back with a ground assault on the Central Front last night. Dug-in U.N. troops drove them back in pre-dawn darkness this morning.

Today the war slackened off to a verbal offensive in which the Reds urged Allied soldiers to surrender and enjoy a "big New Year's celebration" in North Korea.

Cloudy skies and snow squalls grounded most U. N. warplanes today and gave the Reds a respite from hammering Allied air blows. Sabre jets patrolled MIG Alley but found no Red warplanes.

200-Plane Raid

The Air Force hurled a 200-plane raid on a sprawling Red supply center near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital yesterday, sending clouds of black smoke billowing high.

The Fifth Air Force said its bombers and fighter-bombers struck hard at troop billets, barracks and supply buildings. Many secondary explosions were touched off, indicating ammunition dumps had been hit.

Protective Sabre jets destroyed two MIGs, probably destroyed a third and damaged a fourth, the Air Force said.

COLD HOLDS UP MAIL; Milder Weather Soon

By The Associated Press.
Cold held up the United States mail in one community and burst a water main in Philadelphia today but the weather man said Pennsylvanians can count on it being somewhat milder in the next few days.

For five years, Mrs. Eleanor Kirkland has been postmistress at Secane, Delaware County. Her office is a tiny one in the Pennsylvania Railroad station there. She knows the tradition about neither rain nor snow halting the mails. But today was just a little too much for her.

Three windows in the postoffice were broken and the pot-bellied stove was ice cold when she came in. What really distressed her was that her fingers were too numb to sort the mail. She put up a sign which read:

Closes Office
"Post Office is closed until Pennsylvania Railroad provides heat and repairs three broken windows. Temperature in Post Office at 6:30 a. m. Monday morning 36 degrees."

Finally, the stove threw off some heat and cardboard blotters covered the windows. The mail went out.

In Philadelphia, a big water main burst under the stress of the sub-freezing temperatures and flooded the cellars of about 15 homes and business places to a depth of one to eight feet.

In suburban Philadelphia, 12 families left their apartment in the middle of the night when fire broke out. The blaze was in the Aronimink Arms Apartment in Drexel Hill. None was injured.

The Weather Bureau reported that warm winds were blowing in from the Southeast and that the temperatures throughout the state should rise in the next two days.

alimony and counsel fees." The opinion lists various prior cases in law for each of the statements.

Opposed By Strausbaugh
Strausbaugh had contended that his wife should not be allowed alimony because of her conduct and her refusal to live with Strausbaugh in Gettysburg or Adams County.

In his opinion, Judge W. C. Sheely pointed out numerous cases showing that "the only cases in which a wife has been refused alimony because of her conduct are cases where it has been shown that she is living in adultery and even then counsel fees have ordinarily been allowed." In the Strausbaugh case the court said its perusal of the 19 letters "do not present a very pretty picture. On the other hand they indicate nothing more than the fact that the defendant was willing to commit bigamy in order to secure money and they do not show that she committed either bigamy or adultery."

The court added: "The letters do show conclusively that the defendant was very much interested in securing money both from the plaintiff and from others and that her suggested methods are at least questionable."

Told Of Bigamy Plot
One of the letters contained the statement that "the defendant hates Gettysburg and would not live here or in the mountains where the plaintiff has a home," according to the opinion handed down by the court.

The opinion notes that in one letter in 1951 the defendant wrote Strausbaugh of an elderly man whom she was nursing: "Things were going along fine and that she was going to play for 'high stakes.' He's got plenty; close to $750,000 or maybe more. He wants me to go to Florida with him and if you will stay in the background I'll marry him in Florida as he is living on borrowed time. You are the only one who can cause me any trouble, so if you will listen to me we can come out with plenty of jack!"

At the hearing Mrs. Strausbaugh said all 19 letters were untrue, that she had sent them to her husband over a period of about three years to provide him with material for a divorce.

In the opinion, the court states of one letter to Strausbaugh: "Curiously (it) makes no request for money."

Mechanicsburg Outlook Dark As Six Lettermen Fail To Live Up To Expectations

(Editor's note: This is the sixth in the series of articles on prospects of South Penn Basketball League teams written by writers affiliated with the South Penn Sportswriters Association.)

By N. Ross Beistline

Coach Don Seibert, Mechanicsburg High's basketball mentor, is trying to put together a winning combination of Wildcat players to meet Waynesboro at that place in a South Penn Conference game on January 6.

His team has suffered three crushing blows, two at the hands of teams rated higher, but one by a team generally conceded to be in an underdog spot, in pre-conference games—all on the Mechanicsburg floor.

Seibert said that he has six lettermen on his team. However, they haven't lived up to expectations but I believe they will develop.

"As a whole the team spirit is good and this same spirit is improving steadily. The main thing is the attitude of the players—this is not so good at the present."

Others Just So-So

Seibert did venture a prediction for the coming conference season and said that he felt the conference winner "to be either Gettysburg or Chambersburg. The rest of us are just so-so."

He has been coaching basketball at the Mechanicsburg school for the past three years. This, his fourth season, does not appear to be any brighter, as Mechanicsburg just seems to be a football town.

The six lettermen on his squad include the following: Seniors, Jack Banis, Dale Vogelzang, Ned Woolford and Bill Whiteford; Juniors, Bob Enck and Don Getz.

He does have some dependable material to work with, although no one player on the squad is especially outstanding. Don Kauffman, junior classman, who moved from JV to varsity play, has shown the most marked improvement of any player on the team.

Team Three Straight

Tom Ulrich, a senior, Rick Shingler, a junior, and Earl Kohlhaas, a freshman, provide the reserve material with which Seibert must build his team.

Mechanicsburg lost to Camp Hill, generally considered to be the underdog, by a score of 51-30, while John Harris High kicked them around to the tune of 63-43 and Steelton took the 'Cats 44-35.

Basketball prospects for Mechanicsburg look poor in comparison to those available on conference opponents.

HERSHEY TIES WITH BARONS

By The Associated Press

The Hershey Bears' consistency in defeating the last place Buffalo Bisons has served to lift them into a tie for the American Hockey League lead with the Cleveland Barons.

Hershey thrashed the Bisons, 7-2, last night, for its second victory in two nights over Buffalo and its fifth in six outings during the season. Cleveland, meanwhile, was absorbing a 7-4 lacing at the hands of the St. Louis Flyers.

George Sullivan, the Bears' high-scoring center, fired home three tallies in leading Hershey's attack. Sullivan scored one goal in each of the three periods.

St. Louis netted three goals within 46 seconds at the outset of the second period to move into a comfortable 3-1 lead against the injury-riddled Barons.

Zellio Toppazzini was the man of the hour for Providence as the Reds shaded the Pittsburgh Hornets, 3-2, in overtime. With his team short-handed both times, Toppazzini first tied the game at 6:39 of the third period and then scored the winning goal at 5:57 of the extra stanza.

38 Lose Lives In Four Days

By The Associated Press

At least 38 persons were killed accidentally in Pennsylvania during the four-day Christmas holiday week end that ended last midnight.

Thirty of the victims died in highway accidents, four perished in fires and four others died in miscellaneous accidents. Four died in auto mishaps yesterday.

A head-on collision of two cars three miles south of Red Lion, Pa., took the lives of three persons. They were identified by state police as Paul Heidelberg, 21; his wife, Edith, 24, and Edward Sheffer, three, all of York.

Walter R. Groeber, 48, of Cincinnati, O., was killed in an accident involving two cars and a truck on Route 40, about seven miles west of Washington, Pa. Three other persons were injured in the crash.

DETROIT LIONS BEAT BROWNS TO WIN PRO TITLE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detroit's Lions won their first National Football League crown in 17 years in a game that gave the lie to fans who say pro football these days is all forward passing.

I slamming the door on the Cleveland Browns seventh straight championship try yesterday, 17-7, Detroit netted only 59 of its 258-yard total gain on aerials.

Doak Walker Scored

It was a curious struggle on frozen ground for the 50,934 fans who shivered in Lakefront Stadium and millions who watched television in warm homes.

First, the key run was a 67-yard touchdown sprint by halfback Doak Walker, who hadn't hit pay dirt all year. He missed half the Lions' games to rest a pulled leg muscle and didn't play when Cleveland lost, 17-6, in Detroit eight weeks ago.

Second, the Browns controlled the ball nearly two-thirds of the time, but the Lions held a comfortable point lead for all but a few minutes. Walker's run, midway in the third period, put Detroit ahead 14-0.

Says Defense Won

The Browns smashed back for their only touchdown four minutes later, with fullback Harry Jagade plunging 7 to cap a 68-yard drive.

Just 12 more minutes and the Browns' hopes died on a 36-yard field goal by Lion fullback Pat Harder. Halfback Ken Carpenter fumbled a Detroit punt to set up this three-pointer.

The Lions played it cautiously in the last half, while the Browns piled up a big edge in statistics, which don't pay off.

Detroit Coach Buddy Parker said after the game:

"Our defense won it for us."

Grid Action

NEW YORK — How many times during a football game does a team have possession of the ball?

Only 13 times is the answer.

Authority for this statement is Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, coach of the University of California, in a story, "Twelve Minutes of Football," appearing in the November issue of The Catholic Digest.

Waldorf points out that the ball is really in play only about 12 minutes out of 60. The rest of time while the clock is running the teams are calling signals, huddling, or getting ready to put the ball in play.

If you would like to check this yourself, just take a stop watch to the next game you see.

With only 12 minutes of actual playing time it stands to reason that each team has only a few minutes of actual offensive action.

Some teams are able to hold the ball for a greater period of time than their opponents. Waldorf recalls the 1946 Notre Dame-Northwestern game in which the Irish got the ball in the second half and kept it for 12½ consecutive minutes without either losing it or being forced to kick. During that time they made 23 plays and brought the ball to Northwestern's one yard line—but did not score. Notre Dame won, however, 27-0.

More than half the people of the Netherlands live below sea level, says the National Geographic Society.

Alumni Tilts Tuesday Feature Basketball Program For Week; GHS Seeks Fifth Straight Win

Alumni will have their night Tuesday in scholastic basketball circles as four county schools have scheduled their annual games with the stars of yesterday for that evening.

The undefeated Gettysburg High dribblers clash with their alumni at 7:30 o'clock. Only one game will be played.

Paul Anzengruber is coaching the Alumni and today held the last of three workouts.

Only nine candidates showed up for the drills on Friday and Saturday and there will be a lack of reserve strength. Practically a third of the boys who would ordinarily be eligible are now serving in the armed forces and many of those available have decided not to participate.

However, the squad Coach Anzengruber has gathered together is quite likely to give the Warriors a tough evening. The Alumni will include Martin Myers, Ted Ford, Guy Crist, Jack Bream, Dave Swope, Raymond Goodermuth, William Bucklew, Tom McGlaughlin and Joe Temple. Ford and Goodermuth are on furlough from the Air Force and Temple is on leave from the Navy. Bream is a regular on the Mercersburg Academy varsity.

League Opener Next

George Forney's schoolboys have won four straight and will be gunning for their fifth in a row. Tuesday's game will be their final prior to the opening of the South Penn League season at Carlisle on January 6.

Both boys and girls will play at York Springs. "Pete" Kemper's lads have found the going rough this season and have won one against eight losses. The York Springs girls have lost four in as many starts.

East Berlin will also stage a boys and girls double-header. The Indians have dropped all five games to date. Mildred Miller's girls will be making their first appearance of the season.

TWO HIGH FIVES UNBEATEN IN CAGE BATTLES

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (AP)—Farrell, state champion, and Coatesville, runner-up in Class A play last season, both tacked victories on undefeated 1952-53 records in holiday tournament play over the week end.

The Red Raiders from the Eastern Steel City had little trouble in recording their eight straight, 56-42, at the expense of Reading High, defending District 3 champions, in the feature of the 10th annual Eye Glass Fund double-header at Reading.

The Steelers from the Western Steel City came through with two triumphs to cop their own Lions Invitation Tournament at Farrell. Farrell routed Swoyersville (3-4), District 2 champ, 70-48, in the finals Saturday after slipping past Pittsburgh Westinghouse (1-4), District 8 champ, 58-48, in the opening round.

It was the sixth and seventh triumphs, including five over Ohio foes, for the Farrell five.

Have Best Record

The wins left Farrell and Coatesville with the best exhibition records among 11 defending Class A district rulers. Punxsutawney, District 9, has won six in a row.

Both Steel City quintets launch conference play early next month, Farrell opening against New Castle (5-1) in the WPIAL Jan. 2 and Coatesville a week later in a Ches-Mont contest against Bridgeport.

Westinghouse won its first of the year after four setbacks, in dmping New Kensington (5-4), 54-45, for third place in the Farrell meet. Swoyersville won over New Kensington, 48-38, in Friday's first round.

Another Steel City representative, the Bethlehem High Red Hurricane, defending champion of the strong East Penn conference, seeded first in the Lehigh Valley Invitational Tourney's seventh annual show, advanced to the finals, by beating Easton, 82-48. It was the fifth Bethlehem exhibition decision without a loss.

Bethlehem faces Parkland, victor over Allentown Central Catholic (5-4), 58-52, for top Class A tourney honors tomorrow night at Allentown.

Enter Class B Finals

Fountain Hill nipped Hellertown 64-62, and Bethlehem Catholic downed Coplay, 66-51, to advance to the Class B finals.

The preliminary to the Reading-Coatesville contest saw Schuylkill Haven dropped for the first time this season after three wins. Kutztown, Class B eastern champ and beaten only once during the exhibition campaign and that by a Class A foe, turned the trick, 51-43.

Slatington, Palmerton, Weatherly and Leighton meet tonight in the semifinals of the second annual Lehigh Valley Interscholastic League Tournament at Slatington.

Favored Kingston, (5-1) a District 2 power, won its opener in the first annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Tourney at Hazleton, 72-67, defeating Freeland Mining and Mechanical. Others reaching tonight's semi-finals were Berwick, Freeland and Hazle Township.

Three PCIAA teams with unbeaten logs are leading the Catholic League. Scranton Prep and Scranton St. Pauls (both 5-0) are atop the Northern Division with St. Vincent's of Plymouth (6-0) in the Southern lead.

Harrisburg Catholic (5-1) is the class of the Harrisburg Diocese while Pittsburgh Central Catholic (5-1) is the best in the West.

FACE CODE CHARGES

Howard L. Baker Jr., York, has been charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with failing to signal. The charge was laid by borough police as the result of an accident on Steinwehr Ave. Christmas Day.

Association scoring in 1948-49 with 810 points, to again average 14.2

For 1949-50, his last year before going into the Army, he ranked seventh in the league with 1,031 tallies and a 15.4 average.

Thus it's easy to see why Lapchick is anxious to have Braun back from the Army. Long Island's gift to the Knicks even will wear his old No. 4 numeral which has been a familiar sight to fans and opponents throughout the pro circuit.

Braun traveled to Washington on his weekends off to play in the American League. He averaged better than 20 points a game.

Thus the Knicks are assured of getting back a player who is in shape. As to a baseball comeback next spring, Braun says he's uncertain "about trying my luck at baseball again." Signed by Scout Paul Krichell who gave Lou Gehrig, Phil Rizzuto, Marius Russo, Red Rolfe and many others to the Yankees, Braun last pitched in 1950 for the Riverhead, N. Y., semi-pro team.

Braun's top basketball thrill occurred in Providence in 1947 when he scored 47 points to break Joe Fuks' league record of 41.

"It gave me a thrill because I was only 20 and a freshman among the pros at the time," says Carl. Fuks

THE WANT ADS

I have an abiding interest in the little Want Ads of the daily newspaper. They have treated me well. I got my first job, after finishing College, through answering a Want Ad. Their power intrigued me. Through them I got every job I ever had before creating my own business — and that business was financed through a series of articles that I wrote about "How to Write, and Answer Classified Want Ads," which were syndicated to a large list of outstanding newspapers.

It is understandable, therefore, that I am always interested in any story about the power and effectiveness of these small wonders that have accomplished so much for so many. But perhaps the most amazing example is that of Mr. Harlow Curcize, who answered a Want Ad 38 years ago and secured a job with General Motors as bookkeeper. Last year he was paid $528,100 as executive vice president of General Motors, and since the resignation of Charles E. Wilson to join President-elect Eisenhower's cabinet as Secretary of Defense, Mr. Curcize has been appointed president of General Motors! Quite a step for one of those little Want Ads to inspire!

How well we can say that one of the Great little things is the little Want Ads. It is no wonder that owners of newspapers place so much confidence in their worth and power. Many an outstanding Display advertiser has had his humble beginning through the use of the little Want Ad. Just to read them is a revelation. You will note many a human value presenting color and knowledge as you read. Thousands of eyes scan them every day. They are really Wonder Workers!

You display yourself when you put yourself into a Want Ad for a job, or when you seek them out to perform a service for you. Their importance to a newspaper and the public is beyond estimate. General Motors should give a gold medal to that newspaper whose Want Ad brought Harlow Curcize to their payroll! Many a worker today can better his job, perhaps by just using one of these little Want Ads to get up higher. And perhaps some great concern may want to discover, through a Want Ad, another man like Harlow Curcize!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Always With Courage"

WATERFRONT'S GANGSTERS LIE LOW AT PRESENT

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Gangsters, goons and loan sharks who prey on the multi-million-dollar New York-New Jersey maritime industry were pictured today as lying low until the investigative storms blow over.

The Rev. John M. Corriden, famed "waterfront priest" and labor specialist, said in an article appearing today the racketeering element is boasting: "We'll still be around when this thing blows over."

Threat Of Violence
Father Corriden, associate director of the St. Francis Xavier Labor School in New York, said the threat of injury or death hangs over the heads of longshoremen who testified before the New York State Crime Commission.

Writing in The Advocate, official newspaper of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark, Rev. Corriden said the word along the docks is, "Wait till this thing blows over, there'll be bodies floating in the river."

Longshoremen are told it'll be business as usual as soon as problems dim their searchlights, he said.

Meanwhile, the next investigative body to take a look at the waterfront situation—the New Jersey Law Enforcement Council—held its final briefing Friday.

The first witness at its opening session here Monday will be Mayor John V. Kenny of Jersey City. He was subpoenaed by the council after he dodged the New York State Crime Commission's hearings on waterfront crime.

Kenny has said he will cooperate fully and tell all he knows about waterfront conditions in his bailiwick.

714 AMERICANS DIE IN HOLIDAY

By The Associated Press
Accidents killed 714 Americans during the four-day Christmas week end. Included in that number were 533 who died in traffic mishaps.

Neither figure represented a record, nor did the traffic fatalities for the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Wednesday and mid-night Sunday (local time) come up to the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 590.

Bloody as the slaughter on the streets and highways was, it did not equal the 555 killed during a similar Christmas week end in 1936. The all-time record for all accidental deaths during a four-day Christmas holiday period, 789, was set last year.

SOOTHSAYERS OF ITALY SEE NO WAR IN '53

ROME (AP)—Italy's ranking soothsayers—again engaged in their favorite pastime of new-year forecasting—have agreed unanimously there will be no world war in 1953.

The Korean conflict, they almost unanimously say, will end in 1953, after fierce fighting. And—again almost unanimously—World War III will begin the following year.

Naples' Giuseppe La Terza, dean of soothsayers and 40 years in the business, said the spark for World War III will be a revolution in Italy. Italy, he forecast, "will not only be waded, but once again will become an empire."

"America will win the war," he said.

A roundup of forecasts by the Italian Weekly Oggi revealed unusual agreement among the stargazers, head-and-palm readers and crystal gazers. Most of them agreed 1953 will be a rather "colorless" year.

Victory For Premier
Nearly all of a score of crystal gazers forecast that Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat party will win the forthcoming Italian elections, but by a scant margin. The Communists will show an increase in their vote.

Alfonso Ricca, the "Magician of Contursi," near Naples, said world war will break out toward the end of 1954. In the coming year, he forecast, there will be a revolution in France, quickly quelled.

Lello Alberto Fabiani, known as the "Magician of Rome," foresees "much unrest" during 1953. Anti-Semitism will break out in various parts of the world, he said.

The most pessimistic forecast was that of Prof. Francesco Argonizza Tocci. He said:
"I see chaos in Korea bringing greater chaos that will unleash frightful and immense forces. I see many dead, even in Italy. Christmas, 1953, will be one of blood, tears, cries, sorrow."

MAY LIFT GAS RESTRICTIONS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Next spring may bring removal of the Government's restrictions on expansion of natural gas service in several states and the District of Columbia.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense so hints in reporting on a survey of the natural gas situation. The report said the agency hopes to lift the curbs just as soon as defense needs of them pass and "this date, we believe, is not too far in the future."

The restrictive order, imposed by PAD in August, 1951, limits the number of new domestic customers in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Delaware, the District of Columbia and parts of Michigan.

It also requires PAD authority for the addition of new industrial consumers.

PAD said its survey showed that the supply will be sufficient to meet peak demands this winter in most natural gas-served areas of the nation barring severe cold weather.

Serve both tea and coffee at a large party. Place the tea service on a tray with sugar, cream or milk, and lemon. Have the coffee service on another tray with another container of sugar and one of cream.

URGE UNIONS TO TOSS OUT RED LEADERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee backed up a House committee today in coupling a plea to unions to toss out any Communist leaders with a call for tougher laws against subversives in organized labor.

The Senate internal security subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) issued its report to the Senate on a four-day hearing at Salt Lake City last October into the leadership of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (UMMSW).

In a statement from its headquarters, the union accused McCarran of "acting on behalf of big mine operators in a campaign to behead and dismember this union."

Would Expel Red Leaders
The union, now unaffiliated, was expelled by the CIO in 1950 on the ground that it followed the Communist party line.

The subcommittee report exhorted the 100,000-member union to "rid itself of its present leadership" and called for a federal law to:

1. Bar Communists from holding office in or being employed by any labor organization.

2. Permit employers to fire workers who belong to organizations designated by the attorney general as subversive.

Charge Record Incomplete

McCarran introduced such a bill in the last Congress but it died in a judiciary subcommittee.

The miners' union statement said McCarran "aims to wreck this union by the same methods he is using in his wild attempt to wreck the United Nations."

It challenged the committee's transcript of the hearing, saying there were errors and omissions and adding "We intend to request that the Senate take appropriate steps to learn whether these errors and omissions are inadvertent or whether something more sinister was involved."

Denounced Reds In Union

The McCarran subcommittee report follows the final year-end report to Congress released Saturday night by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The House committee denounced communism in some trade unions as "a national disgrace" and recommended repeal of a Taft-Hartley law requirement that union officials must file non-Communist affidavits.

"This provision of the law, after a start as intended by its authors, is now working to the benefit of members of the Communist party engaged in the field of labor," the House committee said.

Under the provision, it was explained, an individual could swear in the non-Communist affidavit that he was not a member of the Communist party on the day he signed it but could be a member the day before and the day after.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) —

Charles M. Graves, veteran newspaperman who founded what is now Wide World Photos, Inc., died on Friday while on vacation. He was 79.

He suffered an attack of asthma while spending some time here with his wife, Mrs. Blair Harvie Graves. The couple lived in New York City.

Graves joined the staff of the New York Times in the early 1900's after serving as city editor of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch for four years.

It was while he was with the Times that he formed the predecessor of Wide World Photos. He was editor of the Times' Sunday picture section for 26 years.

During that time he helped develop the first practical means of transmitting photographs by telephone wire and was looked on as a pioneer in rotogravure.

Funeral services will be held in Richmond.

Predict Reduction In '53 Wheat Crop

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Agriculture Department today was on record with the prediction that Pennsylvania's winter wheat production in 1953 may drop to an average 20 bushels an acre, down two and a half bushels from last year.

The department announced on Friday that a federal-state crop survey indicated drought conditions last fall allowed 83 per cent of the seed plantings this fall to germinate. Three per cent more of the 1951 plantings germinated.

The estimated wheat production next spring, when the winter crop is harvested, should be about 17,420,000 bushels, compared with 19,012,000 in 1952, the department estimated.

WEEKEND TRAVEL UP

The holiday weekend brought a slight increase in the volume of travel over the Gettysburg battlefield. Reports today showed 336 park visitors on Saturday and 280 on Sunday for a total of 616.

Cal Hogue of the Pittsburgh Pirates had the longest losing streak in the National League in 1952. It was eight straight losses.

WINTER MULCH FOR STRAWBERRIES

A strawberry plant is unique in its requirements for an over-winter mulch. To understand clearly why a protective mulch is necessary in this latitude, what kinds of mulching materials are best, and particularly when to apply the pre-winter cover demands a simple but important study of the plant's late summer and autumn growing habits and formation.

Around about the first week of September in early varieties and three to five weeks later in late varieties the growing points in a strawberry plant change into fruit buds. Four facts about these buds should be known by all strawberry growers. They are: (1) Fruit buds form in the crown points and, if the plant is vigorous, in several of the leaf axils; (2) These fruit buds develop into flower clusters and later into fruits the next spring; (3) No additional fruit buds form in the spring; (4) The number of fruit buds a plant develops (and, therefore, the number of berries it will produce) has a direct relation to the number of strong leaves it bears over summer.

Thus, because these tender, late-developed fruit buds are easily killed over winter, mulching is necessary in latitudes north of southern Virginia or wherever low temperatures are likely to occur when no snow covers the ground. On this point it is interesting to know that loose snow is considered as good a protection as a similar depth of straw.

But too much emphasis cannot be placed on the factor of when to apply the mulch. In fact, too early mulching may cause more damage to strawberry plants than no mulching at all. This, too, should be clearly understood by realizing that strawberry foliage is extremely succulent and tender until the shorter days and lower temperatures of October gradually mature the leaves. By the time winter arrives a plant in well drained soil can withstand a temperature of 15 degrees above zero without considerable damage. But growers should not gamble with temperatures below 20 degrees F. or fruit buds, crowns and feeder roots may suffer injury.

Therefore, the time to apply a winter mulch for strawberries must be established by two climatic facts. First, the temperature should drop at least once to around 20 degrees in late fall to render plants thoroughly dormant and mature. Second, after this maturing action occurs the mulch should be applied before temperatures reach 15 degrees or lower.

Weather behavior in each community must decide the date. In general for this area it is advisable to be ready to apply the strawberry mulch between November 16 and 25, and occasionally the date will range up into the first few days of December.

The kind of mulch to use is an important matter. To be effective the covering must remain light and airy. A sodden mulch is extremely dangerous. Marsh hay, wheat or rye straw, or Sudan grass cut for hay before it becomes coarse are widely recommended.

The covering should be removed from directly over the rows before growth starts in the spring. If the material is retained in the aisles it may be easily replaced on threatening nights to protect the tender growth and early flower clusters from late frosts. Later it may be utilized as a summer mulch between the rows to conserve soil moisture, to eliminate the labor of cultivation to eradicate weeds and grass, and to protect fruits from contamination with the soil.

Both winter and summer mulching are important steps in successful strawberry culture. The editor invites all related questions readers may wish to ask.

PLANS FOR GRAPE PLANTING

Most farmers and suburban dwellers should grow more grapes. Not only will prospective growers find hardy varieties excellent for consumption as fresh fruit but abundant crops fit easily into preserving and jelly-making schemes. And particularly should an ample supply of grapes be grown especially for making healthful grape juice for home use around the year.

Because nursery plants should be set out in early March, soils should be made ready before winter. It is this phase of the work that justifies suggestions for general grape culture.

Grapes thrive in a wide range of soils, from sandy to clay loams, providing in all cases that the soil permits deep rooting and provides good drainage. However, grapes do ripen more uniformly and their sugar content is higher where they are grown in clay loams. There are individual vines producing heavy crops in clay soils after more than 60 years of continual growth. It is doubtful that such long service is possible where grape are planted in light sandy soils.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on thorough preparation of the soil before winter. Of course, the task calls for two immediate decisions — location and spacing.

Grapes demand a site where the vines enjoy free circulation of air and all-day sunshine. This combination of natural factors aids greatly in reducing common diseases as well as in stimulating maximum vine vigor and high quality fruit.

Vines should be spaced about 8 to 10 feet apart to serve satisfactorily on overhead arbors or on a two-wire or slat trellis. In the latter case rows should be far enough apart to allow room for the operation of a power sprayer.

The wire trellis method is excellent where grapes are grown along one side of a garden or in fertile fence rows. Too, for home use the wire trellis permits easy and effective hand spraying, simple but proper pruning, and if the vines are trained on the windward sides of posts and wires, excellent protection from storms.

Because grape vines will occupy their original sites for the lifetime of the planter and perhaps across the next generation, soil preparation should aim at two important goals — to provide mellowness to a liberal depth to accommodate future root extension and to insure maximum fertility for the first few years of growth.

With the approximate planting site determined, well rotted manure and compost should be worked into the soil to a depth of at least two feet in an area three or four feet in diameter. Care is necessary to avoid the creation of an undrainable "pocket" in this work. Fertile fence row loam may be substituted for or added to the lower rooting stratum to render it mellow and rich.

Nursery plants should be ordered in early January for March

1 delivery.
The supports — overhead arbor, wire or slat trellis, or individual stakes — should be erected over winter at the prepared sites and thus have everything ready for early planting. In the meantime varieties should be selected and all doubtful steps cleared up by writing the editor for needed information.

There is ample room in present food production activities for expanding grape growing on self-sustaining farms and in most suburban home grounds.

NOTES ON HOME BUTCHERING

Snappy mornings in early winter bring farm butchering plans to the front. And with this important event at hand, emphasis is needed on a few essential steps in handling meat to promote high quality and insure maximum consumer safety. Here are a few timely suggestions:

There are two main methods of curing pork—dry cure and brine cure. The erroneous idea that there is a third, called the "sugar cure," leads many readers to ask the editor for details. Sugar may be used in conjunction with either the dry or brine cure. It is not a separate method.

Persons who have hogs to slaughter and who are not entirely clear on these two phases of curing meat should write the editor at once to ask all the questions necessary. Merely enclose a stamped envelope for an immediate personal reply. Every person should have such needed information at hand before butchering.

Choose a cold, dry day for the work. Home curing of meat is an actual race between absorption of salt to preserve the cuts and the entrance of spoilage bacteria. With a fairly low temperature on his side the butcher may quite easily win the race.

Carcasses should be split and the leaf fat removed immediately after dressing in order to hasten cooling. The sooner animal heat is dissipated from the meat the fewer dangers of spoilage.

Meat should be cut up the same day the animals are slaughtered and chilled over night in a room where the temperature remains around 36 to 50 degrees F.

There is but one preservative for meat butchered and cured for home use — salt. Smoking along will not preserve it. None of the other advised steps is a substitute for the absorption of sufficient salt to drive out and keep out the tiny organisms that cause decay.

Here is a lineup of curing materials: Salt to preserve; sugar to make a milder cure; pepper, if desired, for seasoning; saltpepper mainly to improve the red coloring of lean meats.

Pork that is to be smoked may be cured by either the dry or brine method. Both are widely popular although it seems certain that farmers in general prefer the dry cure method for bacon cuts, hams and shoulders. However, some of the tastiest bacon we have ever eaten was brine cured.

There is an easy tendency to over-salt pork by both methods and thereby impair its quality. About 8 pounds of salt and 2 ounces of saltpepper are recommended for dry curing 100 pounds of pork, with 2½ pounds of sugar added if a sugar-cure is desired.

The same quantities of curing materials are advised per 100 pounds of pork in brine cure, dissolved in 4½ gallons of water. Lighter bacon cuts may be cured in a milder solution made by use of 5½ gallons of water.

Cuts to be smoked should be soaked in cold water after curing and then scrubbed with a stiff brush in hot water. After they are wiped dry they are ready for smoking.

Run wooden skewers sideways through baconcuts to prevent their warping and curling during the smoking process.

Use hardwood for smoking, not pine or other resinous woods. Smoked cuts should be wrapped in grease-resistant paper and encased in unbroken muslin bags for storing.

The editor invites all related questions interested readers wish to ask about home butchering and pork curing.

WANTS VOTING AGE SET AT 18

HARRISBURG (P)—A bill proposing an amendment to the State Constitution to lower the legal voting age in Pennsylvania today was headed for early submission to the 1953 General Assembly.

Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) disclosed yesterday that he would introduce a measure "as soon as the present session convenes" designed to extend voting privileges to persons over 18. The legal age is now 21.

"I feel very strongly about our young people having a voice in their government," Pechan said. During the last session he introduced in the Senate a similar bill but it was not reported out of committee.

Before the measure can be submitted to a popular vote it must pass two sessions of the Legislature. Among reasons Pechan cited for his belief that the age should be lowered was that "if they are old enough to fight ... they are old enough to vote."

WEALTHY TEXAS RANCHER TAKES LIFE IN PLANE

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—"I just can't face it," a wealthy West Texas rancher radioed after a three-hour air-to-ground argument, then he plunged his bright yellow plane into a gravel pit near here.

The suicide dive yesterday ended frantic, futile pleadings by friends and airport officials with Ollie Williams Cox, 23, owner of the 2,500-acre Heart Hereford Ranch, 10 miles south of here.

Civil Aeronautics Administration experts began an investigation of the crash today.

Reason Is Mystery
Why Cox carried out his threat to fly around until he ran out of gas and then crash remained a mystery. Threats, jokes and pleadings had no effect as he circled in the brilliant West Texas sky.

"Everything is all messed up," Cox said over and over again.

He joked, broke into tears once, but refused to land the small five-passenger craft. Once he asked the airport to check on any airlines in the vicinity.

Recorded Conversation
"I don't want anybody else to get hurt," he said.

A tape recording was made of the two-way radio conversation but Cox's friends and officials refused to repeat any but a few words of the argument.

"He kept saying something about 'I just can't face it,'" said Dow Patterson, acting chief of the Abilene, Tex., control tower, where two friends sped to talk with Cox.

Wife Expecting Child
"He had some sort of difficulty and was evidently tired of it all. But I wouldn't want to say on the basis of what I overheard what that trouble was."

Patterson said Cox "ran the gamut of emotions from humor to depression" during his radio conversation with Earl Critz, Sweetwater filling station operator, and L. M. Hubbard, Sweetwater barber.

While Hubbard tried to talk his friend to safety, Mrs. Hubbard drove to the vast ranch and got Mrs. Cox, who is expecting a child in about a month. After the fatal plunge Mrs. Cox was put to bed under a doctor's care. Relatives took the couple's 3-year-old daughter Karen Kay home with them.

NEW BUDGET AT HARRISBURG IS DUE JANUARY 26

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Republican administration has put off until Jan. 26 introduction of the Commonwealth's budget for the next two years.

Rep. Charles C. Smith (R-Phila.), speaker-designate of the House, disclosed the decision to a newsman, declaring:

"It has been traditional to have a one-day session at the convening of the Legislature. Legislative leaders have agreed to meet only on Jan. 6. That, of course, means the budget will not be introduced until Jan. 26."

Two-Week Recess
The decision was reached despite Gov. John S. Fine's readiness to submit the budget, expected to run about $1,300,000,000, at the opening session.

At a pre-session caucus last month Fine said the budget would be ready about Jan. 1 and that he hoped the lawmakers would consider it as soon as the session begins.

Immediately after the opening session, Smith said, the lawmakers will recess until Jan. 26. The week of Jan. 12 will bring the State Farm Show to Harrisburg. The following week will see many GOP leaders in Washington for the inauguration of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower on Jan. 20.

Fine already has indicated some 200 million dollars in new revenue will have to be raised by the 1953 Legislature to meet expenses obligated by previous legislative sessions.

Must Fill Vacuum
Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget secretary to the governor, confirmed the figure and said 61 million dollars of it is because of an acceleration in the collection of the five per cent corporate net income tax.

The 1951 Legislature, in adopting a 113 million dollar "patchwork" tax program, ordered the collection of 30 months of corporate net income taxes in the current two-year fiscal period.

That vacuum must now be filled by the 1953 Legislature unless expenses are cut to match the figure. Even with the introduction of the budget Jan. 26, it will be sooner than in any recent administration. The governor usually has held off until March or April to submit the budget.

30 Guests Routed In Hotel Blaze

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—Fire in a paint room sent smoke pouring through the lower stories of the 200-room, five-floor Fort Cumberland Hotel early Saturday, routing 30 guests.

Firemen, who confined the flames to the paint room, said spontaneous combustion might have touched off the blaze. There were no injuries although several firemen were made ill by paint fumes. The guests made an orderly exit, some of them using fire escapes to get away from the fumes and smoke.

Assistant Fire Chief James Jackson said the blaze was in a basement room used to paint furniture.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Austrian Chancellor Dr. Leopold Figl will invite U. S. President-elect Eisenhower and Russia's Prime Minister Stalin to meet in Vienna if the two ever should agree to confer, a top government source disclosed Saturday.

The Austrian government source said Figl feels Vienna would be the best city in the world for the two representatives of East and West to meet. Vienna is the only capital in the world where East and West still get along in relative friendship.

MANILA (AP)—Metropolitan Opera Star Helen Traubel arrived Saturday from Tokyo and Korea for a series of concerts.

Paratroopers Jump Into Vietnam Pocket

ABOARD A FRENCH AIR FORCE TROOP CARRIER OVER NORTHEAST INDO-CHINA (AP)—French and Vietnamese paratroopers made parachute jumps Saturday to join powerful land forces moving on an important Vietnam pocket near Na San.

Early reports from the ground said no important contacts had developed following the drop, which took place in the area north of the village of Conoi, 10 miles southeast of Na San.

The operation was called a "reconnaissance offensive."

Involving thousands of French Union forces, the operation was aimed at eliminating a pocket formed when large enemy groups withdrew from Na San after three violent but ruinous attacks four weeks ago.

IKE TURNS TO EXPERT ADVICE ON W-P CONTROL

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower has instructed a group of advisers to come up with recommendations on whether the new administration should ask Congress to extend wage-price control authority beyond April 30.

An informed source, who asked not to be named, said today the group has been studying "the whole complex matter" for some time but has not reached even a preliminary decision.

The advisers were described as eminently qualified, but the source declined to say who they are.

Gets Help On Farm Problem

In another field, Eisenhower last night named a 14-man agricultural advisory committee to help draft the incoming administration's farm program.

The committee was appointed by Eisenhower after conferences with Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture-designate, and it will work with Benson. The group of farm specialists is headed by W. I. Myers, dean of the Agriculture College at Cornell University.

The committee is an interim unit which will serve between inauguration day, Jan. 20, and perhaps for a while thereafter. It probably will be succeeded by a bipartisan federal agricultural commission, which Eisenhower said during the campaign he would create if elected.

Returns To Headquarters

The President-elect was returning to his Commodore Hotel office today for the first time since last Wednesday, when the headquarters was closed for the Christmas weekend.

Only two visitors were on the calling list today—Boston banker Robert Cutler, who served as an adviser during the campaign, and Paul G. Hoffman, former chief of the Marshall Plan foreign aid program in the Truman administration and now head of the Ford Foundation. Hoffman also was an adviser to Eisenhower during the campaign.

Hoffman said after a recent conference with Eisenhower that for personal reasons he was not in the market for a job in the new administration. Cutler called on the general last week and said "we didn't talk about that—yet" when asked by newsmen whether he would take a government job.

Asks Taft Advice

The problem of what to do about wage-price controls is regarded by Eisenhower associates as one of the knottiest confronting him.

The present wage-price control law expires April 30.

Eisenhower's position during the campaign was that he wanted to see wage-price curbs junked as soon as feasible. He will have to decide in the early days of his administration whether this spring will be a feasible time.

He also will seek advice on the wage-price control issue from Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate Republican leaders. The general, who already has conferred with House GOP leaders, may meet with the Senate group this week. The Stalin peace overtures also are likely to be discussed with the senators.

sin of the bride, and the ushers were David C. McCullough and Carl F. Ketterman, both of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Weikert wore a deep purple dress of iridescent taffeta shading into black with dark blue accessories and a jeweled hat. Mrs. Dellinger wore a dark blue dress with black accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Richard B. Shade, organist, accompanied the soloist, Rodney Felix, who sang "Caro Mio Ben" ("My Dearest Love") by Giordano; "Because" by D'Arletto; and "The Lord's Prayer" by Albert Hay Malotte. Mr. Shade also played "Verset" by G. F. Broadhead; "L'Amour Toujours L'Amour" by Rudolf Friml; "Bells at Twilight" by Frederic Groton; "At Dawning" by Charles Wakefield Cadman; "Arioso" by J. S. Bach; "Wedding Prayer" by Fern Duple; and "Benediction Nuptiale" by Clement Loret. He also played the traditional processional and recessional and the hymn, "O Perfect Love," by Barnby, during the ceremony.

A buffet supper was served at the Hotel Gettysburg after the ceremony. Upon returning from their honeymoon the couple will reside on W. Middle St.

The bride is a graduate of the Gettysburg High School and is presently employed as eastern district manager for the Olan Mills Studio, Springfield, O., with offices on W. Middle St., Gettysburg.

The groom attended schools in Red Lion and had been in charge of the finishing department of the Gettysburg Furniture Company for many years. He is presently employed as a finishing consultant for the Gilbert Spruance Company, Philadelphia.

advertisement which a machinery manufacturer recently ran in a business magazine.

It pointed out that "The very existence of the world depends on profits; the improvement of the world depends on big profits," and used agriculture as an illustration. A farmer plants one potato and gets back about 15 for a profit of more than 1,000 per cent. He plants a pound of corn and gets back 336 pounds for a profit of 33,600 per cent. "To legislate against profits is as silly as to legislate against things growing," the advertisement said in conclusion.

Lancaster Radioman Dies Suddenly At 39

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for 39-year-old LeRoy Miller, well known Philadelphia disc jockey who died yesterday of a heart attack in St. Joseph's Hospital here.

Miller, whose early morning program was a radio alarm clock for thousands, was stricken Saturday at the Marietta home of John and Fannie Eyer, an uncle and aunt who had taken him into their home when his mother died shortly after his birth.

A resident of Delaware County, Miller is survived by his widow, the former Mary Wetzel, of Kulpmont; two children, Lois Ann, 5, and Gary, 2, three sisters and a brother.

Funeral services will be held in nearby Elizabethtown.

"Say, — maybe I'm missing some calls"

That's a likely possibility when you're making one call after another. When you're using the telephone constantly, no one can call you. And on a party line, all the other phones also register a "busy" signal.

When your "calling list" is long, space out your calls. Then you won't worry about missing any incoming calls... and your party-line neighbors will be able to make and receive their calls as well.

BROADWAY HAS FEW NEW FACES GRACING STAGE

By MARK BARRON
The Associated Press

Women in the Broadway theater dominated many of the stages in both musicals and straight plays, but for the most part they were veterans of the footlights. There were few fresh young faces in the leading roles.

As the year went out Bette Davis returned to the stage after 22 years absence in making Hollywood pictures. And instead of the theatrical dramas she has been doing in films, she came back to the stage in a song and dance role in the musical revue, "Two's Company."

Margaret Sullivan also came back to Broadway after eight years absence from the stage, part of which time had been spent in Hollywood. For her return to the theaters where she had always played a girl-on-the-verge-of-falling-in-love parts, she chose a more mature role, "The Deep Blue Sea," she plays a matron who falls hopelessly in love with a much younger man.

Hayes Going On Tour
Helen Hayes won cheers for her starring role in Mary Chase's new comedy hit, "Mrs. McThing," and, as the year closed, she was preparing to take the play on a coast to coast tour.

Tripping upon an almost forgotten comedy by Bernard Shaw, "The Millionaire," Katharine Hepburn won a mixture of cheers and boos for the bouncing, tumbling, athletic performance she gave this role which had short life on Broadway.

Of the new faces among the ladies, about the only youngster who won resounding cheers on the musical stage with her performance was Elaine Malbin in the leading role of the lyrical "My Darling Aida." Possessed of an excellent soprano voice which has won her overtures from the Metropolitan Opera, her Aida role seems to have set her on her way upwards.

Honors For Booth
Shirley Booth, who won five stage awards two seasons ago for her performance in the leading role of "Come Back, Little Sheba," returned this past year to enhance that record with a triumph in "The Time of the Cuckoo." This is a cheerful, heartwarming play about an American school teacher who goes to romantic Venice to find love before it is too late for her.

Two women foreign stars also had Broadway audiences tossing bouquets at them this past season. Madeleine Renaud and her husband, Jean-Louis Barrault, who are sort of an Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontanne team of the Paris stage—brought their French Acting Company over for an extended season.

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations headquarters has taken its place as one of the top tourist attractions in New York City. When guided tours of the establishment were extended without fanfare recently to Saturday and Sunday, there were 1,500 paying customers the first day. Other top attractions include the Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center and the Metropolitan Museum.

SAYS TRUMAN'S STATEMENT IS "MISLEADING"

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's description of a statement by President Truman as "inaccurate and misleading" today stimulated anew the controversy around the general's ouster as Far East commander.

MacArthur, in a statement issued here last night, took issue with a reported comment by Truman that he relieved MacArthur because the general "wanted to involve us in all-out war in the Far East."

The United Press quoted the President as making the statement Saturday in an interview he gave to its White House correspondent. It was one of a series of year-end interviews granted by the President to White House newsmen.

No Comments From Truman

In Washington last night, White House Press Secretary Roger Tubby said Truman would have no comment on the MacArthur statement. Tubby said the President "made his statement and is sticking by it."

Courtney Whitney, retired major general and a top aide of MacArthur, gave out the latter's statement. It said in full:

"President Truman's statement yesterday (Saturday), as reported in the press, that I wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East" is inaccurate and misleading.

Fired In 1951

"My purpose and desire was not to extend the war but only to end it. At that time, this could have been accomplished with only a fraction of the approximately 70,000 American battle casualties which have since resulted. Actually, the longer it lasts the greater the chance of its spreading. How anyone could use such a bloody drama as a means of self-glorification is quite beyond my comprehension."

It was not made clear whether the "self-glorification" remark was aimed at Truman or was intended by MacArthur to point up his own position in the controversy.

MacArthur, now chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., was fired by Truman April 11, 1951. Truman then said in a formal statement that he concluded MacArthur "is unable to give his wholehearted support" to U. S. and United Nations policies in Korea.

Dr. May

sorrow for his traitorous actions. He said he shipped the Russians atomic secrets for "the safety of mankind." In actual payment he got at least $700 and two bottles of whiskey.

May went to prison in stony silence on May 1, 1946. That was before Russia had announced the explosion of her first atomic weapon. He got out of prison in a world tense with the danger of a Third World War.

Gets Good Treatment
Upon his release, May was told he had paid the full penalty and would be a free man. But it was assumed British security officials would keep a close watch on him.

May traded his grey jail uniform for the dark business suit in which he entered prison. He was given a ration book, a small amount of money and a third class travel warrant good for a train journey to wherever he wants to go in Britain.

There is no need for him to report to police regularly. Britain's 1948 Criminal Justice Act releases May as well as other prisoners from parole requirements.

But his future remains a question mark. He has no job, little money and a name that is associated with "atom spy." Like ordinary Britons, he will be subject to the official Secrets Act which denies him all access to atomic and other closely-guarded military developments.

As a member of the U.S.-Canadian-British wartime team of atomic scientists, May made four trips to the University of Chicago's hush-hush atomic laboratory in 1944. There he learned some of the steps that led to the building of America's first A-bomb.

He was teaching at King's College in London when he was placed under arrest in March, 1946. The police waited until he finished a lecture, then took him off to jail.

It is believed that the Tower of London is moving away from the River Thames at the rate of about 1 1/4 inches every 30 years.

COUNTY MOTORS CORPORATION

YORK STREET

GETTYSBURG, PA.

The 1953 FORD is the new STANDARD of the AMERICAN ROAD

ONE-PIECE CURVED WINDSHIELD plus a car-wide rear window plus side windows that are picture-window big give you visibility unlimited—Full-Circle Visibility. I-REST tinted safety glass effectively shields your eyes from sun and road glare.

NEW MIRACLE RIDE is a perfect blending of advanced '53 Ford ride features like, more responsive springs... new softer shock absorber action... wide front tread... and front stabilizer bar. You get the smoothest, quietest going on all roads.

AUTOMATIC POWER PILOT gives you high-compression "Go" on regular gas! You get more "Go" per gallon because it squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas. It's standard equipment on both Ford V-8 and Ford Six.

CENTER-FILL FUELING permits gas filling from either side, prevents "hose-straft" on the finish of your car. No gas spill on fenders. Shorter gas fill pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase. It's a Ford exclusive in the low-price field.

POWER-PIVOT PEDALS are suspended from above to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes, give you more foot space, and to operate easier. Allows brake master cylinder to be mounted in engine compartment for better protection.

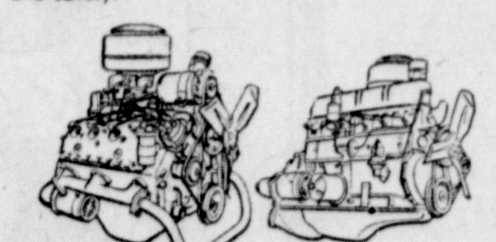

SHIFT TO FORDOMATIC—and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever produced. And remember, the '53 Ford also offers smooth-going, money-saving Overdrive... or easy-shifting Conventional Drive.

KEY-RELEASE DECK LID is mounted on counterbalancing hinges to open automatically when you turn the key. The engine compartment hood, too, is counterbalanced to open automatically and to stay open, until you want it closed.

FOAM RUBBER CUSHIONS OVER NON-SAG SPRINGS are on all seats for greatest riding comfort. Automatic Posture Control front seat adjusts to right height and angle for all drivers... for greater comfort and safety.

CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX ENGINES—Ford's famous 110-h.p. high-compression Strato-Star V-8 has a partner in thrifty "Go" in the 101-h.p. low-friction, high-compression Mileage Maker Six. Only Ford in its field gives you this choice.
